Corset Project

On this page, I look into manipulating fabric and outfit designs that include that

I also looked through a Vogue magazine to gain some initial inspiration.

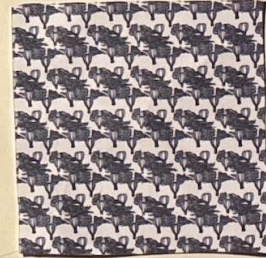

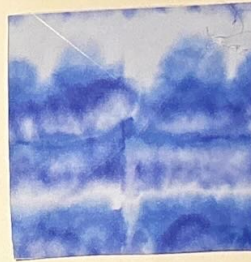

- As you can see, I experimented with some directional pin tucks

TIED UP

- This project looks at how I can use old materials, to create a new product.
- In a charity shop, I found a basket of old ties, so I looked at how I can use them to create new designs.
- In the end I made a zero waste top. It took me 2 attempts, above you can see a failed attempt, the ties weren't wide enough. The second attempt worked.
